The thought flashed across my mind, too, that perhaps the crafty old gen-tleman had deliberately planned the and limber up. A moment after it is disappearance of the gems, Perhaps see if I was honest, if I was of the right caliber to be his heir. Maybe he whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, and his wife had not gone to Maine at all. They might even be quartered in another apartment in this house, surreptitiously entering when knew I was absent. There really had been no necessity for them to give me the combination of the safe. They need not have told me anything about the pearls. I wondered if they themselves might not have taken away the jewel box just to see if I would over the loss and to ascertain what I would do about it.

Another theory suggested itself. My aunt evidently prized her jewels highy. After they had started she might have repeated having left them behind and have sent the old colored butler back to get them. He of course would have a key to admit him, and they would have supplied him with the safe combination, as they had me, Probably he had been told to leave ome message for me and had forgotten to do so. More than likely in a day or two I would receive a letter from old Rufus that would explain everything.

I was glad now I had not notified the superintendent nor the police. My second theory surely was far more logical than the first. It seemed preposterous that they would risk hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of gems just to test my honesty.
Still, I determined to make a thorough investigation. If they had been tolen, I would set about in a scientific way to discover the method of to communicate with me again. he theft and to bring about restoraion. "In the wall safe!" I cried, thinking in bewilderment of the coincidence that these papers should have had a similar hiding place to the ton jewels which had vanished so strangely.

"Yes," she answered, plainly puzzled at my bewilderment. "It was an ex cellent hiding place. No one but my self had the combination. I don't se now who could have taken them. found the safe locked as it always Was."

"When did you first discover the papers were missing?"

"Let me see," she pondered. "Claire's engagement was announce a dinner three weeks ago last Thursday. The newspapers on Sun-day carried a brief notice of it. Two days later the first note came.

"What note?" She reached into the pocket of her riding habit and drew forth a folded of paper.

"I brought it with me to show you

Like the mysterious note I myself had received only the preceding night. this one was not inclosed in an en dressed in typewriting to "Miss Claire Bradford," On the other side was thi message:

"What if Thayer knew about you being married before? How much will you give to get those papers back?"

"Where did you get this?" I asked "I found it on the floor of my bed room one morning when I got up late. I gave it to my sister without having read it, thinking she had dropped I fainted. Fortunately Mother was out of the house at the time. Naturally I rend the note then. I went to the safe and found the documents gone Claire has been nearly crazy since. She insists that it is all my fault. She says I ought to have de stroyed the papers, but I couldn't could 1?"

"Of course not," I replied warmly "You did quite right in keeping them was not your fault they were stolen.

"I couldn't destroy them. Dad had told me to keep them," she said simply. "What did you do then? Did you tell your mother?'

BACK ACHING?

That "bad back" is probably due to week kidneys, a trouble that often follows grip, cold, or overwork. It shows in constant, dull, throbbing backache, or slarp twinges when stooping or lifting. You have headaches, too, dizzy spells, a tired, nervous feeling and irregular kidney action. Don't neglect it. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands have saved themselves serious kidney lills by timely use of Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. C. R. Keyport and Mrs. C. A Canfield entertained the Bridge club at the home of the former Tuesday-afternoon. At six o'clock the gentle-men joined the party and a splendid dinner was served. There were thirty-two in all present. After dinner the company played bridge and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Mrs. Charles Tromble won the prize in the afternoon and in the evening Mrs. Marius Hanson and Mr. O. Schumann held the highest scores.

It hardly seems possible that one week ago there was good sleighing here in town and today there is hardly a patch of snow to be seen. A few venturous autos showed up on the streets Friday and Saturday, and streets Friday and Saturday, and Sunday there were many cars out. Today the flivvers are claiming the watchful care of pedestrian at every corner. The snow has gone off in a hurry and with very little discomfort from floods and high water in the streets. The heavy snows had protected the ground from deep freezing and already the frost has entirely disappeared in some places.

Fire destroyed the home of Lloyd Marlow in Beaver Creek Tuesday noon of this week, involving a loss of about $2,000. The fire started from sparks from a chimney. The wind was strong and soon had the roof in flames. The fire got such a quick start that very little of the household goods was saved. All the foods, provisions, kitchen utensils and necessary household articles were destroyed so that the family had absolutely no dishes to cook on or at solutely no dishes to cook on or eat with and no food to eat. Neighbors looked after the family for a few days. The house and furniture were insured for $550.00 Mr. Marlow says that he will rebuild just as soon as arrangements may be made.

Last Thursday the Grayling High school Boys' basket ball team left for the basket ball tournament at Mount Pleasant. For their first game they had the ill-fortune to draw Cass City, who was known as the hardest team there, for they held the championship last year. They received the small end of a 22 to 4 score. They then entered the Consolation tournament but were not consoled for they were beaten by Edmore 6 to 0. Friday evening all of the basket ball teams were given a banquet, which they enjoyed very much. Friday night they witnessed the final game in which Cass City was beaten and Arthur Hill, the latter winning the cup. They also saw the Normal College team beat the Saginaw Y team 28 to 22. The boys returned Sunday morning, having stopped at Bay City, where some of them wisited friends and relatives. The members of the team wish to thank the business men of the town for supplying them with the funds to make the trip. Last Thursday the Grayling High

Belgium Sketches

The Priest of Poelcapelle

By Katharine Eggleston Roberts

Poetcanelle is a pleasant sounding ways fascinates the youthful geog-rapher. Poelcapelle is not a volcano, though it might as well have been built on one as to have been located in West Flanders. After the Germans and the Belgians and the English had finished sending shells and bombs through II, nothing but the musical name of the town remained.

Now, one by one, little wooden houses are growing out of the battle-field. The people of Poelcapelle are coming back to reclaim their land. There's one house targer, longer than the others—that is the church. Near it is a smaller one, to which you'll be invited if you visit the lost village. We were there.

The young priest kicked his clinging, long black skirt. "I'm always tear-ing it," he lamented. As he sat down and crossed his knees, khakt-colored trousers showed above his army shoes. He was one of Belgium's "fighting priests" who had served in the trenches, not in the robes of the church but in the uniform of a regular soldier. Now his sinewy shoulders bulged beneath the tight-fitting vestments of his order. "It's hard to get used to these skirts again, especially in this sort of place. I hope you'll excuse the fact that my house is not yet in order." He poured our coffee from a canteen on the stove. "You see, we just finished building it four days ago. The trouble is I'm so busy I don't have time to get settled."

Some one looked out of the window at the few shacks which made the people, always Won't you let me walk

"Of course it will be cold, and I've no doubt the breezes will blow through many walk. But thank God, I've plenty of ciothes for the people."

"You have plenty of clothes!" The exclamation sounded foolish, but really, it didn't seem possible that one man had collected enough garments to clothe a town, even if it was a very small town.

"Yes," he explained. "They can from a relief organization in the Unit ed States. Not long ago a lot of them arrived, addressed to "The Priest of Poeleapelle." We went to look at the clothes. There was almost every kind name, 1871 11? Something like the name of the Mexican voicano, that at inspection, I smiled at the kaleidoways fascinates the youthful geogs scope of incongruous fashions one would see in Paelcapelle the coming winter. The priest read my thoughts, "the we aren't particular about style out here, as long as the clothes are warm," he answered.

"So you really do get our things, af-We've heard all sorts of stories about them going astray, not being used, and other dreadful tales."

"We get them, and we are mighty glad to get them. I'm keeping these to distribute when and where they are needed. It won't be long, you see, before I'll be in the clothing business.

"And incidentally," some one added "you play host to wandering travelers. If you keep it up next summer, when the tourist season opens, you'll have to run a tevern, too,"

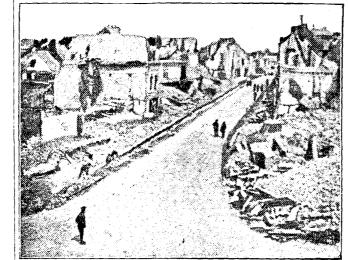

"I'll let the other citizens do that; it's really the only business they can follow successfully here. farm or grow garden—there's too much

"It's so convenient to have a train that stops here now. It has been do-ing it for just two weeks. All our food has to come from outside, you know and now it comes much more regular I'll go to the station with you, ly. or rather the ticket stand. Our station still a thing of the future." "Not just the people from Poelca-elle," he said. "The soldiers who come from the reconstruction camps about here fill it pretty well. But my religious duties are not what keeps me so busy. It's the other things."

I was sitting on a low cot. A sudden movement sent a small round parcel to the floor, and a handful of hazelnuts rolled in every direction. We all dived to rescue them.

"They are a gift from one of my parishioners." The young priest gathered them together, "Goodness only where he found them in this "Is the town growing very fast?" We wanted information.

"Is it? I should say so. Visit us in three years and you'll see a city!" He dropped his half-laughing tone. "But the trouble is that people come back and have no place to stay till the government committee puts through an order to send out materials for a shack, and then the shack has to be built. That's one of the things that keep me going every minute. They seem to think the priest can do everything—even unwind the red tape of government. I'm town scribe, and a hunter of homes for the homeless rolled into one. But it's surprising to see their hope, in spite of all the difficulties."

FEAR BLASTS OF THE SHELLS

Accidental Bursts are Numerous and lecting Unused Weapons.

In the vast, desolate fields thousands of unexploded shells have been picked up by prisoners and, though there are details hauling them away and exploding them in remote valley every day, there are still long ranks of them everywhere. Sparks from locomotives and from small fires where battlefield rubbish is being burned, ocensionally set fire to patches of dry weeds and the accidental bursts are numerous. Roads passing piaces where shells are being set off are guarded, but it is from the accidental blasts that the danger comes,

Run Down and Lungs Hurt-Stayed Home and Gained 22 Pounds.

"In November, 1911, I had a severe col-and la grippe, which left me with a bad cough. My lungs and shoulder blades hurt so I couldn't sleep and I finally had to give up my job and was ordered to change climate. In April, 1922, I began taking Miks Emulsion. On the second bottle I could see a change. My appette was better and I commenced to gain strength and weight. creased 22 pounds in weight and believe I am permanently cured.—W. F. Bourland, Route 5, Wolf City, Texas.

Mr. Bourland was fortunate in commencing to use Milks Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural howel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly releved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results your full of energy, who keep hope going in the people. I'd think the soul of a

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 3/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

"The Farmer Kept Faith With the Country

-- Now Let the Country Keep Faith With Him"

LEONARD WOOD

This is Wood's sentiment toward the American Farmer, as expressed in his Platform and speeches:

"If the farmers had not kept faith as they did we would have lost the war, we would have been unable to feed our Allies and ourselves. They sent their sons to war, and in spite of the shortage of labor they raised the biggest crop in history.

"We want to maintain our rural population because it is the basis of our most stable citizenship. To do this, we must make life on the farms more attractive. The farmer must have good roads his full share of taxes. His interests must not be permitted to suffer so that other interests may profit more. If there is anything more important in this country than Agriculture, I do not know it.

"We must have a Department of Agriculture conducted for the Farming interests by men who really know farming from the furrow to the crop

"We must have national economy at Washington, and a budget system.

"We must have federal suppression of all dishonest business, no matter how large, no matter how small. "We must have more producing, less spending, a saner cost of living. "We must have a longer term of years to pay the war debt.

- "We want fewer tenant farms, more owned farms."

HAS HAD STOMACH TROUBLE FOR SEVEN YEARS.

FOR SEVEN YEARS.
Theodore Sanford of Fenmore, Mich., has had stomach trouble for seven years and could not eat vegetables or fruit without pain in the stomach and restless nights. By taking Chamberlain's Tablets he is now able to eat vegetables or fruit without causing pain or sleeplessness. If troubled with indigestion or constipation give these tablets a trial. They are certan to prove beneficial.

N IRRITABLE, fault finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. great many have been permanently cured of stomach troubles by Chamberlain's Tablets after years of suffering. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Try them. They only cost a quarter.
